Grayling Residents Charged With Marijuana Possession

Gerald Jacklyn, 36, and his son Vance Jacklyn, 17, both of Grayling, were charged with possession of marijuana with intent to deliver after police used a search warrant to enter their residence just east of Pappy's Trail off M-72 East.

The Crawford County Sheriff Dept., assisted by Grayling Police officers and Michigan State Police, seized about $6,000 in marijuana, packaging material, sales documents, and drug paraphernalia, according to a sheriff dept. report. Christy McCalloch, 23, was charged with resisting and obstructing a police officer. The search took place at 6:45 a.m. Friday, Feb. 20.

Gerald Jacklyn posted $5,000 cash (10 percent of $50,000 bond), Vance Jacklyn posted $1,000 cash (ten percent of $10,000 bond), and McCalloch was released on $1,000 personal recognizance bond.

Beaver Creek Home Burns

The James Morrow residence in Beaver Creek Township along Switzer Boulevard was destroyed by fire after Morrow and Michael Guey, Jr., escaped from the home. Guey woke up about 3:30 a.m. smelling smoke Tuesday, Feb. 17. The dogs were also acting strangely so Guey went to the living room where he noticed a glow in the ceiling. He went and woke up Morrow and they left the house with the dogs. The Beaver Creek Fire Dept. responded to the blaze but the home was listed a total loss.

Qualifying organizations are urged to apply. Deadline for applications is March 6, 1987. Send applications to Crawford County Department of Social Services, attention: Donna O'Grady or Robert A. Porter, 348-7691, P.O. Box 702, Grayling, MI 49738.

Area Drivers Failing To Stop for School Buses

Local police have received reports of a few incidents recently of drivers failing to stop for unloading school buses in Crawford County.

Grayling City Police Chief Pete Stehan said city police will be watching school buses in the city closely after a report that one driver who failed to stop came dangerously close to a student.

Stephan said in the city and in the rest of the county all vehicles must stop when a bus is loading or unloading. When a school bus has its flashing red lights on, vehicles must stop no less than 10 feet from the bus.

Crawford AuSable Transportation Director Vern Hoag said some drivers ignore the lights and need to have their memory refreshed about the law.

Hoag said school buses are on the road during school days from about 6:40 a.m. to 9 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., and 3 to 5 p.m.

The only place in Crawford County drivers do not have to stop for flashing red lights on a school bus is on the southern portion of the I-75 Business Loop where the highway is divided. Motorists in the lane going the other direction do not have to stop. Vehicles behind the bus going in the same direction still have to stop.

Even on four lane streets, such as I-75 Business Loop in front of the Hospitality House, drivers going both ways must stop for the school buses.

Drivers on M-72 or other state roads must stop in both directions for school buses.

One hundred and seventeen personnel attended winter annual training for the 1071st commanded by CPT. William Munson, of Saginaw. The majority of the 1071st live in the Grayling area.

Red Barn, Moose Lodge Raise $7,314 for Warriors

Crawford County raised more than $7,314 for Wertz's Warriors and the Michigan Special Olympics — one of the highest totals for a northern Michigan county.

Joanne Shively led a fund-raising effort at the Grayling Red Barn that netted $5,102 and the Grayling Moose Lodge raised $2,212.

Shively sold signatures on ceiling tiles in the Red Barn for $10 each to raise close to $3,000. With about 300 ceiling tiles already painted with names, she's started selling the remaining tiles to begin raising money for next year's Special Olympics.

In addition to the ceiling tiles, a summer auction at the Red Barn netted $2,277 for Special Olympics.

The Moose Lodge earned $1,345 at an auction at the Holiday Inn Feb. 10. Cash donations, membership donations, and the sale of Special Olympic badges earned another $867.

Bill Freehan and the rest of the Wertz Warriors were on hand for the auction conducted by the Moose Lodge.

Before the auction at the Holiday Inn, the Wertz's Warriors stopped at the Red Barn and Jim and Joanne Shively presented the $5,102 to the group. Several of

Grayling Chamber Decides to Cut Director Position

The Grayling Regional Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors is eliminating the Chamber director position beginning March 1 in an effort to cut expenses.

"This move has nothing to do with the job (director) Terry Wright has been doing," said Chamber Board of Directors president Norma Naour. "Terry is a hard worker who is very loyal to the Chamber and gives 150 percent. If we had the money, he would still be there."

"It just comes down to economics," said Naour. "The Board is just making a prudent business decision."

In a letter to Chamber members, the Board of Directors said "It is important to understand that this action had nothing to do with the job Terry Wright was doing for us. He has done a fine job and we wish him well."

"For some time now the Chamber has been trying hard to be all things to all people. We have tried to be involved with all the seasonal functions, industrial development, political action, facilities development, and many other areas that better our community and our businesses. It has been too big a task for our budget. We have not had, and do not have, the funds to cover all areas. Our attempt to do this has left us in the red year after year. We can't operate this way any longer. We are constantly involved in fundraising to pay the bills and have not been putting sufficient effort into promoting the community because our attention is always on the budget problems."

"This Chamber of Commerce is now going to do the job it is charged with; promoting your business by promoting our community. We are going to do this without repeatedly having fundraisers. We are going to operate only on the dues you and the other members pay. That makes our budget $31,900.00 (if you all stay with us), and not $98,000.00, as it has been."

The Chamber currently is in debt for $13,000 — about $7,000 is due now and $6,000 is left on a loan that bought $19,000 worth of brochures. The director's salary is $12,600 a year with $2,400 extra for car expenses. The Chamber currently has $18 with no anticipated income until dues payments in June.

The Chamber board is planning one last huge fundraiser to get out of debt. In May they plan to hold the biggest Las Vegas night ever held here.

In a letter to the Chamber board, Terry Wright gave his best wishes to Grayling Chamber of Commerce and said he hoped this action turned into something positive for the Chamber.

Wright, who came from Arizona to accept the director's position, said he will be staying in Grayling.

At a Chamber meeting last Thursday, Steve Sauter told the Board to raise dues to collect money to operate the Chamber effectively.

"If you can't sell Grayling to people in Grayling, how can you sell Grayling to people in other areas?" Sauter asked.

Board member Mike McNamara asked if it was better to have 100 members paying $1 or one member paying $100. When some business people said they would rather have the one $100 member, McNamara said he disagreed.

"If you go that way then you're taking care of a few fat cats at the expense of the majority."

Terry Dickinson proposed that the Chamber hire a professional fundraiser to solicit a few large donations from several big businesses to pay for a director. Then all regular dues could go toward promoting Grayling and the director would not have to worry about running fundraisers to pay his own salary.

The board listened to the proposal but took no action. Several Chamber members told the board they wanted the board to look into the proposal.

The business hours at the Chamber office will be 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday and 12 noon to 4 p.m. Saturday until the end of May when the board said they hope to increase hours. The Chamber board told members they will be receiving a full plan of action, goals, and a new budget within two weeks.

DNR River Plan Draws Ill Feelings

By Don Geiss

Announcement of the Department of Natural Resources plan to begin hearings on including the AuSable River in the natural River Plan has local residents saying that once again a governmental agency is attempting to dictate land use to private property owners.

The draft plan of the river includes restrictions on minimum river frontage, industrial buildings, building setbacks, docks, on-site sanitation systems, signs, soil erosion and sediment control measures, and mineral exploration.

The draft also includes statements on policy toward utilities, agriculture, disposal of solid wastes, stream alteration, land alteration and natural vegetation. Additional provisions cover recreation, fishing, hunting and trapping, and administration of the plan.

The proposed plan hearings coming soon after the recent court actions on no-kill regulations on a portion of the AuSable River has a local public testily viewing the matter as another effort to tell private property owners how to live.

Larry Mattis, owner of Larry and Joan's General Store on the Wakeley Bridge Road, feels that implementing the plan will make people reluctant to buy property along the river. Dwight Hassan, a riverfront property owner asked that with little difference between the local greenbelt ordinance and the Natural Rivers Plan, why should another layer of bureaucracy be added? He observed that property owners take good care of their land but state access property tends to be a major eyecore.

Jack Alef, president of the Grayling State Bank said, "When the DNR starts telling people what they can do with their property they have gone too far." He compared it to the Russian KGB where a person cannot have freedom to do what they want with the land they own.

One of the major concerns expressed by local property owners and other interested citizens is the section 14 of the law which establishes the right of the DNR to order natural rivers. That section states "Nothing in this act shall preclude a component of the system from becoming part of the national wild and scenic rivers act." It also states, "The commission may enter into written cooperative agreements for joint federal-state administration of rivers which may be designated under Public Law 90-542."

Bill Fraser, an AuSable River property owner said that there could be a strong possibility that the federal government would come in the back door and use private property for a playground.

Another concern shown by Hassan is that the Gaylord area is chosen for one of the hearings. He observed that the river begins south of that area and those citizens could care less about what happens here. Another item which he raises questions about is a statement in the introduction to the AuSable River plan which indicates that support for including the AuSable River under the plan comes from a variety of organizations and interests. He wonders just exactly who the interested groups are.

Douglas D. Carter, DNR chief of the Natural Rivers Program, said that interested groups in the area need not be restricted to the formal hearing. He said that if a group would like to discuss the plan at a meeting either he or his assistant Jeff Silagy would be happy to meet with them. His telephone number is 517-373-1170.

The hearing dates have now been set and include the Grayling session at the High School Auditorium on Tuesday, April 28, at 7 p.m. On April 29, a 2 p.m. meeting is set for Harrisville, and another at Mio. A meeting at Roscommon will be held at the Community Center on April 14 at 7 p.m. The one at Gaylord will take place at the Old Kent Bank Community Room on April 15 at 7 p.m. A list of the other meetings appears in a public notice in this issue of the Avalanche.

A report on the federal plan hearing as it appeared ten years ago in the paper displayed a very similar attitude. Congressman Bob Davis said, "I am against any further wilderness set-asides in northern Michigan, particularly as they apply to the control of privately owned lands." Other speakers made similar statements and reflected the thoughts of people whose current comments about a plan, be it federal or state, has not changed.

It remains for the DNR representatives to assure the people that their rights will be protected, according to many of those interviewed.

County Republican Delegates Attend State Convention

Last Friday, Feb. 20, and Sat., Feb. 21, Crawford County Republicans participated in the 1987 Republican State Convention at the Civic Center in Lansing. Participating as Delegates on the floor were Arthur Thayer and Joseph Callewaert representing Congressional District Ten, and George Emerson representing District Eleven. District Eleven includes the northern portion of Crawford County.

On Friday, the County Delegates under the leadership of Chairman Thayer, and in concert with all other Delegates from Counties in both Congressional Districts, re-elected both District Chairmen Dennis Starnes, Midland, and Rick Berquist of Manistiquie. Also maintaining his office was State Central Committeeman, Arthur Thayer. They were congratulated by U.S. Congressman Bill Schuette and Bob Davis.

Immediately following the Caucus, the Crawford County Contingent met at the Clarion Hotel with U.S. Senator Bob Dole. Senator Dole had high praise for Congressman Schuette, saying, "Bill has been doing a fine job in Washington." Senator Dole did not discuss presidential politics with the Crawford County Delegates, but he did comment on the enthusiasm and spirit displayed by the Michigan Delegates.

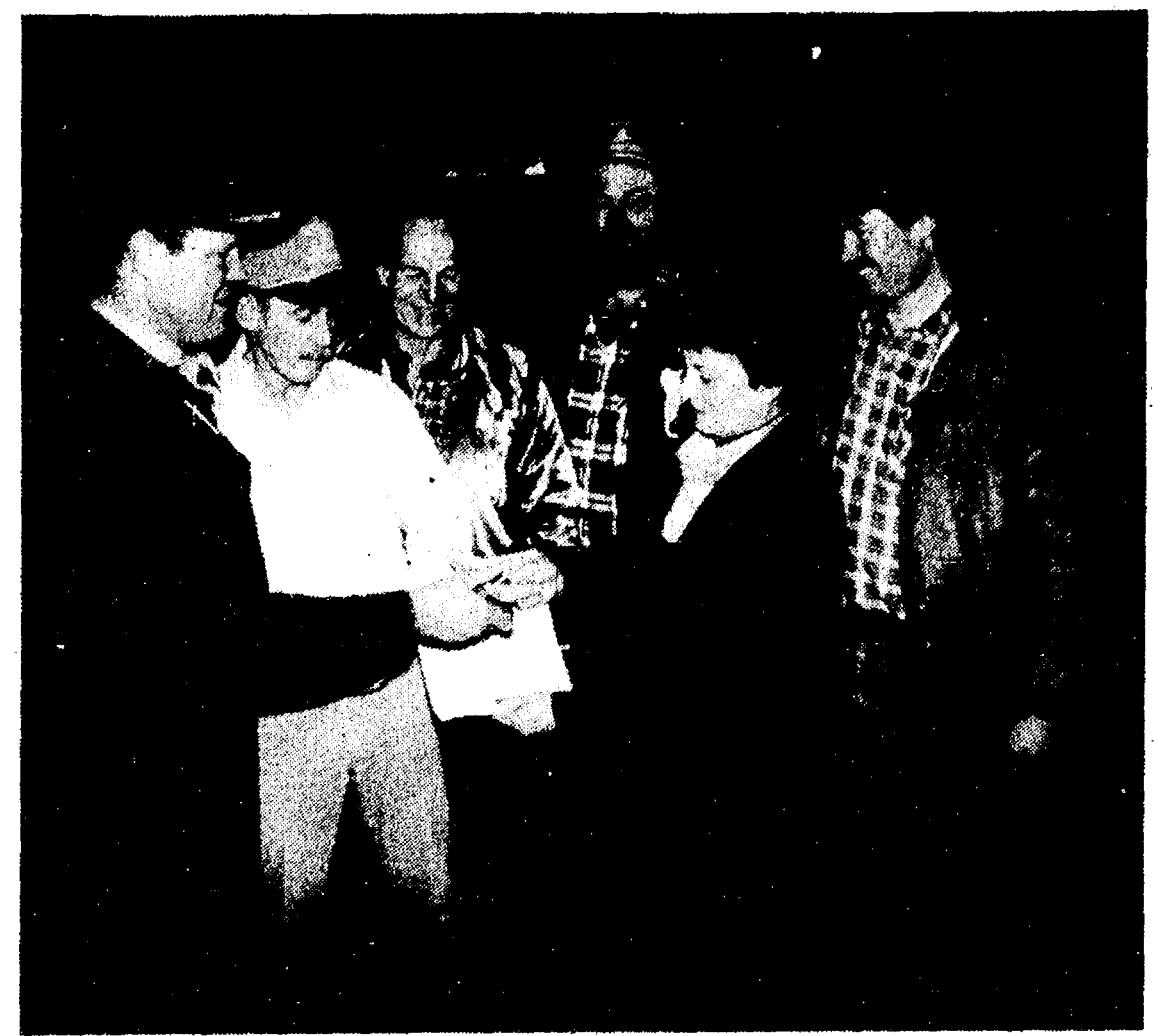

Thayer, Emerson and Callewaert were informally polled many times as to their choice in the 1988 Presidential race. No commitments were made, however, since they need more input from Crawford County voters, to enable an accurate community representation.

On Saturday the Convention opened with enthusiastic support for President Reagan, whose message to the delegates appeared on a wide screen. A thundering ovation and standing applause set the mood of the convention, and this mood hit a high point upon the re-election of Spencer Abraham as Chairman of the Michigan Republicans.

Among the issues discussed and voted on was an Agricultural program for the purpose of increasing Michigan farm exports to countries around the world. The Republicans reaffirmed their support for farmers. A conservative tone was also highlighted by their support for an equal reduction in the state income tax consistent with the spirit of Federal Tax Reform.

The convention certainly foreshadowed the Feb. 5 and 6, 1988, State convention at which the Michigan GOP will select its 77 representatives to the Party's national presidential nominating convention in New Orleans.

World Day of Prayer Joins 170 Countries

World Day of Prayer celebrates its Centennial on Friday, March 6, 1987, proclaiming the theme, "Come and Rejoice". A 100-year-old prayer movement of global dimensions, the World Day of Prayer is a worldwide expression of mutual prayer and Christian unity. Its uniqueness lies in the fact that its expression is found in local communities and its leadership in lay-women of the church. World Day of Prayer, begun in the United States in 1887 as a day of prayer for missions, has developed into a movement in which Christians in some 170 countries and regions of the world gather each year to observe a common day of prayer. The same theme and worship service is shared and translated into hundreds of languages and dialects. In many countries, the event serves as a catalyst for women to come together as they work to bring about changes in their lives.

In Grayling, World Day of Prayer observances will be held in St. Mary's Church, Grayling at 1:00 p.m. on Friday, March 6. Following the service in church, there will be refreshments including a 100th Anniversary Birthday cake honoring World Day of Prayer.

Babysitting will be available during the church service. For more details call Lora Gould 348-2331, Elsie Jansen 348-5572, Clara Sorenson 348-8260 or Ann Morford 348-8933.

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson

Charles Raches (see Letters to the Editor) brings up a question every Crawford County resident needs to think about: What direction is Camp Grayling headed in?

There are some sharp division lines being drawn in Crawford County when Camp Grayling is discussed.

Some people view Camp Grayling as the single most important economic contributor to this county. Some feel supporting our national defense system is more important than any problems or inconveniences the military causes.

Others think Camp Grayling activity is increasing too much for our area. Some feel the military is driving out tourists and retired persons.

I have heard complaints from both sides for years. The military sometimes unfairly receives insulting phone calls from new homeowners complaining about range noise. They complain that they didn't know the range was there when they bought their house.

Someone who buys a house without checking enough to find out it's next to a firing range does not usually deserve a whole lot of sympathy.

On the other hand, I dislike the argument that the guard has been here for more than 60 years — so if you don't like it, why did you move here?

The use of Camp Grayling has increased in the last 25 years. There wasn't always 35,000 guards here in the summer. And helicopter activity and night training has increased in the last 25 years. There are natives around who used to get along fine with the national guards but are now bothered by them because of increased noise or activity.

There are some strong feelings out there on both sides. Most people realize Crawford County residents do not have much say in national defense plans. But it's only fair that county residents should have some voice about new ranges, increases in training, or bringing in new helicopter units, tank units, or other units here.

Almanack

Wrong Way To Create Jobs

by Richard Milliman

TIME ONCE MORE for one of our infrequent strolls—barefoot among the potpourri...

EVER WONDER WHY our federal deficit grows the way it does? Well, just take a look at the wondrous ways of Washington.

A recent report by the General Accounting Office shows that a $9 billion government program designed to create jobs did just that—but at quite a cost.

The program created 35,000 jobs, the report indicated, but at a cost of $88,571 per job. With results like that, how can the poor taxpayer win?

In addition, the report indicated, states with the worst unemployment problems got the least help on a per capita basis from the program. Nine states with unemployment rates of 12 percent or more—including Michigan—received less than $400 per jobless person, while 10 states with rates of 10 percent or less received more than $450 per jobless person. That doesn't seem like the best way to create jobs where they're needed most.

Incidentally, I recognize that the arithmetic doesn't tally—that is, $88,571 per job for 35,000 jobs does not equal $9 billion; but that's what I read in the newspaper.

With Washington arithmetic, however, who can tell the difference?

EVERY ONCE in a while, some ordinary citizen does something that makes the newspaper which makes all of us puff out our chests just a bit.

In Denver, according to a news report, former chauffeur Elmer Lambert willed $160,000 to the social security system when he died.

"I'm so proud to be an American," Mr. Lambert wrote to his lawyer before he died last fall at age 81. "The whole world expects America to always be the Santa Claus, and they never do anything in return. But not me; I do this with the hope that I am doing my part to continue helping old and disabled people as they have helped us."

Good for Mr. Lambert; his philanthropy should make us all feel real good.

Mr. Lambert participated in social security only from 1951 to 1959. And a check of his contributions and his subsequent benefits is revealing.

In the nine years he contributed, Mr. Lambert earned $23,635 and contributed only $505 to social security, which his employers matched. But from January 1960 until October 1986, he received $71,048 in benefits.

THAT'S QUITE a difference in cost-benefit ratio, but it indicates why the cost of maintaining our social security system is so high, and points to another reason why federal deficits grow.

Many people believe that they are entitled to social security benefits because, after all, they are only receiving back what they contributed in the first place. That's not quite accurate.

Most social security beneficiaries draw benefits far in excess of contributions, just as Mr. Lambert did. But that's the way the system works.

It's a welfare program, in the last analysis, not a retirement program. And every wage earner in the country is entitled to participate. But social security is very expensive to the public treasury, as the Lambert illustration indicates.

PERMIT EXPRESSION of a couple of personal prejudices, both involving our highways.

—It looks as if the Michigan happy faces signs around highway repair sites are safe after all. Some scrooges down in Washington decided that the happy signs—which depict either smiles or frowns, depending on how far the construction zone will last—violated federal guidelines on highway regulations because they were confusing.

Nonsense. There is no confusion about smiles and frowns and detours. The federal folk had their heads in their armpits on this one. Fortunately they saw the error of their ways, and now are permitting Michigan to continue to use the smile-and-frown sign system. Whew! Let's hope the idea spreads across the country.

—AND THEN there's the matter of increasing highway speed. Congress is considering a change to increase the speed limit above 55, at least in some cases, and the Senate already has approved a bill to raise the limit to 65 on rural expressways.

Personally, I'm all for it. It's silly to have a 55-mile-per-hour limit on wide open four-lane superhighways in rural areas; neither the cars nor the roads were designed for that limit, which is neither observed nor enforced anyway. It should be increased.

As for urban areas and two-lane roads, there's much more logic to continue the present limits, and I'm all for that, too.

Grayling Headed for Problems If Military Escalation Continues

February 16, 1987
"Letters to the Editor"

Three Cheers for Don Welser!!!

His letter in the February 5, 1987, Avalanche regarding the National Guard problem is right on target. Mr. Welser deserves a lot of credit for being the first permanent resident I know to come "out of the closet" on this issue and I do not believe he is in the minority.

As a vacation home owner in Grayling Township, we have been totally turned off by the increasing annoyance of the Guard activities. In the twenty-six years I have been coming to Grayling the noise level has escalated to the point of intolerance... particularly the all night firing which is absolutely senseless and completely unwarranted.

We built a home on the AuSable eight years ago with the plan to ultimately retire to the Grayling area. That will not be the case and in fact we are currently looking for another retirement community... far away from a World War III environment. Mr. Welser asks, "Who in their right mind would move into this county?" NOT US! He also asks, "What would our property and homes be worth with a very high usage firing range on a year round basis?" Not much! I know that we will never recover the investment in our Grayling home now and, at the present rate every year gets worse.

I and other vacationers have complained continually about the problem and the issue has repeatedly been addressed by the Property Owners Association. Dialogue with the military and representatives has had no effect, either with verbal or written communications at local, state and federal levels. Most local permanent residents dismiss the problem by saying "we get use to the noise" and the financial motivation by most local businessmen propagates this exploitation of our environment for the almighty dollar. Have you all forgotten why you or your fore fathers came to Grayling in the first place? It probably was to get away from noise pollution and crime. The Guard brings both to Grayling.

Your tax dollars and mine are being wasted by the tens of millions to turn Grayling into the military's grandest "Pay for Play" Amusement Center in North America. They are well on the way to creation of the "Ultimate Nuisance". Certainly training is important and is serious business as the rebuttal in the February 12th Avalanche states. However, some consideration for local residents must be given. To date there is no evidence of that.

Local residents who agree with Don Welser better stand up and be counted. You can make the difference through your congressman and senator. I can not even vote in Grayling.

I too am grateful for the cut in M.P.R.C. Funding and sincerely hope enough sensible residents like Don Welser will speak up and try to regain some sanity in the escalating Guard activities before it is too late. Anyone seriously interested should investigate the problems of noise and crime at Camp Drum in Watertown, New York. That is the home of the new Light Infantry Division that almost came to Grayling at the urging of Senator Levin two years ago. An article in the Asian "Stars and Stripes" last year highlighting the problems in Watertown was enough to make all Grayling residents recoil in horror. Grayling is headed for the same problems if the military escalation continues.

Sincerely,
Charles H. Raches

Ponderings

That Nebulous "They"

By Don Geiss

Ever since we began writing for a news publication the word "they" has haunted us to the point where we almost tear out our hair every time someone uses the word.

Of course in a certain context it is a harmless word but used the way it is when people address a news person is an abomination. Let us provide a couple of examples. An individual might be complaining about high property taxes and state that "they" have placed a value on his home that is much too high.

The first question a reporter asks is who is "they". The answer may turn out to be anywhere from someone in local government to someone in the County Building.

The next example is one which is frequently aimed at the Department of Natural Resources. The person might say "They" told me that I will not be permitted to build a septic tank near the river." Now this "they" becomes even more involved because the person reporting what is felt to be a gross injustice may not even be placing the blame on the right branch of government.

The reporter asks which department of the DNR made the decision to refuse permission to build the septic tank? The answer may be "I don't know but the guy came from the County Building." At that point the reporter wonders since when has the DNR had an office in the County Building.

Finally the Department of Social Services may come in for the blame about improperly giving money to someone who has a job and yet gets a DSS monthly check. The reporter asks where the information came from and the answer is that "they" talked about it at the restaurant. It turns out after investigation that "they" could not be located and the person who gave the information originally would not give the name of the alleged offender because he did not want to get the guy in trouble.

We repeat that nebulous word "they" will some day drive us crazy although some of our critics feel that we have already reached that plateau.

Hi, I am in Mrs. Fleming's class and I am writing about team work. We work together in our committees as a team. It is really sort of fun if we decide to get along. We mostly do team work in English and Math. The team that has the most number of right problems gets a treat. So now you know what team work is and maybe this article will help you if you ever have team work.

 We're only silent until you need us.

During the winter, Michigan homeowners are faced with a variety of moisture problems. Troubles can occur when there is either too much or too little moisture in the home.

Too much moisture can cause paint to peel, water and ice to develop on window surfaces, and discoloration to occur along wall and ceiling intersections. At the opposite extreme, excessive dryness can cause shrinking and cracking of furniture, static electricity buildup, and dry or scratchy throats among family members.

Correcting a dryness problem can be easy. You simply need to add more moisture to the air and block places where moisture is escaping. Humidifiers, either portable types or those added to forced-air heating systems, will increase the air's moisture level. Caulking and weatherstripping will tighten the home.

Be careful your efforts don't backfire, however, and give you the opposite problem — too much moisture.

The most common problem caused by too much moisture is condensation. Warm air holds more moisture than cold air. When warm air comes into contact with a cooler surface, such as a window, it is cooled and moisture vapor condenses on the window as water, or, if it's cold enough, ice.

Moisture problems come from a variety of sources. People, simply by living and breathing in their homes, contribute a large amount of moisture vapor each day.

Rainwater or melting snow can also pond near basement walls or crawl spaces. Eventually it can migrate into the basement and elevate moisture levels. Groundwater can continuously evaporate from the soil in a crawl space and so enter the living space.

The keys to controlling humidity and condensation are reducing the amount of moisture vapor in the air and raising the surface temperatures of walls, ceilings and windows.

Attack the problem at its source. Clean and repair gutters and downspouts to help guard against wet foundations. If the downspouts end close to the foundation, extensions can be added to divert water away from walls. Installing a vapor barrier, such as a heavy plastic sheet, on the ground in a crawl space can help prevent moisture vapor from collecting.

Mechanical ventilation, such as exhaust fans vented to the outside, can be a good investment in bathrooms, kitchens and laundries. Always operate the fans when bathing, cooking and mopping or during other times when moisture is being produced.

Surface temperatures can be increased by installing insulation or adding storm windows. Caulking and weather stripping will increase window temperatures and prevent condensation. Insulation added to walls or ceilings will also help eliminate condensation by keeping inside surfaces warmer. Vapor barriers are then needed to prevent moisture vapor from passing into the attic or walls and making the insulation wet. Vinyl wallpaper and some paints can act as vapor barriers.

Read paint can labels carefully to make sure the paint is vapor retardant and follow directions. Finally, seal all holes and cracks in exterior walls. This will help a great deal in slowing the migration of moisture into wall cavities.

The Aging Blind

Both blind and aging people use many defenses to deal with their problems. One of the most common of these is denial. Some blind people deny their blindness. Old people may attempt to deny their aging: they are better, they can run faster, and so forth—and sometimes die of a heart attack trying to prove it. Others will attempt to rationalize and use aging as an excuse for not doing things they do not want to do.

If one has a combination of both aging and blindness it makes a wonderful excuse for many things. He could not possibly do something he does not want to do, because he is not only old but blind. It can also be used as a wonderful way of controlling the family.

Another defense is the individual's projection of his own feelings about aging, and his own feelings about blindness. We all grow up with feelings about both. Many have a stereotyped picture of an old person who is discarded, shuffling along, and forgetful. Perhaps they also have a poor image of a blind person. With the combination of the two, the resultant picture may be pretty grim. We tend to attribute these stereotypes to other people who may not feel this way at all.

Many times an older person's isolation is of his own making. If he was a bore all of his life, he probably now is an old bore. If he has nothing to talk about except himself and his illnesses, he is probably not very interesting. If he feels that he is entitled to be rude or demanding because he is old, or because he is blind, he will not be accepted. There are, however, many people who are old, people who are blind and people who are old and blind, who accept the condition realistically and are still able to be cheerful, interesting and happy.

Adjustment lies within the individual. It does not matter whether or not one achieves his adjustment by disengagement or by activity; this, I believe, should be his personal preference decision. We workers who deal with old people and with blind people cannot make this decision for anyone. If a person, sighted or blind, wants to grow old sitting and rocking his life away, that is his privilege. If he wants to keep active in life, this he also should have the opportunity to do. We might be able to help the elderly blind person to understand how he, as an individual, makes himself acceptable and interesting to them.

There are many people who can and do make themselves interesting to them and are accepted and welcomed anywhere, despite being old, or blind, or old and blind.

Frederic Library Friends Raise $ For Building

Friends of the Library have been very busy the past few months raising money for the Frederic Library Building Fund. Children novelty toothbrushes were sold at Christmas and the businesses in Frederic sold Carnations for Valentine's Day.

Plans are being made to sell flowers for Mother's Day and have an Easter bake sale. Small Easter basket items will be available and there will also be a drawing for a large Easter Basket. Tickets can be purchased from a Friend of the Library. Anyone wishing to make a donation to the Frederic Library Building Fund can direct it to the Frederic Township Hall in care of Barb Verlinde.

GLOVE WINNER — Chip Waite, a Grayling Elementary fourth grader, won a baseball glove and ball signed by Mickey Lolich and Tom Tresh at the Grayling Baseball Clinic.

St. Francis Celebrates Annual Shrove Tuesday

Long ago, in merry old England, it was the tradition to refrain from any rich or sweet food during the season of Lent. In order to remove all such items from the household, a great feast was prepared on Shrove Tuesday. The feast consisted of numerous cakes, made with all the richest spices and ingredients that could be found. Keeping with this Lenten tradition, we at St. Francis wish to invite everyone to help us celebrate Shrove Tuesday with a feast. Our church is located on M-72 West. When you purchase your ticket at the door, you will be tantalized by the smell of plain, blueberry and potato pancakes, ham, sausage and applesauce.

This year's feast will mark our 12th annual Shrove Celebration. It will be held on Tuesday, March 3rd. Dinner will be served from 5:00 p.m. until 7:30 p.m. Donations for the meal are $3.00 for adults, $2.00 for children under 12, and children under 6 eat free. This year we are delighted to be using our new Parish Hall addition.

We will be donating 10% of all proceeds to the River House Shelter of Grayling.

Daniel's Den To Present Talent Night

This Saturday Daniel's Den will be presenting talent night. Everyone bring a song to sing, a skit to do, an instrument to play, or a testimony to give. All ages are welcome to perform. Daniel's Den is located on M-72 West, 1 mile out of Grayling in the Fellowship Hall of the Episcopal Church. The doors are open 7:30 p.m. and music starts at 8:00 p.m.

We have the experience, we represent the companies and we want you back year after year.

Helping you helps us build trust!

"Invest in your future with us."

"We will save you money!"

Three GHS Skiers Qualify for State

Three members of the Grayling Ski team qualified to compete in the State Finals as a result of their performances at the Regional meet held Thursday, February 19th, at Schuss Mountain. Jayson Welsler, who was 2nd in slalom, Julie Huss, who placed 4th in giant slalom, and Cari Longworth, who came in 6th in slalom will race in those respective disciplines as independents at the State meet to be held on Monday, March 2nd, at Crystal Mountain marking the first time in the school's history that three racers have gone to the State meet to compete as independents and not as members of one of the two top teams from the region.

The girls team had a very successful day finishing 4th in a 16 team field spearheaded by state powers Harbor Springs which finished 1st, Traverse City Central which was 2nd, and Petoskey which finished 3rd.

Senior Cari Longworth led the girls team with two of the best races of her career taking 6th place in a slalom and 12th place in giant slalom. Junior, Julie Huss who fell for the 2nd week in a row in slalom for a 25th place finish came back in the afternoon to put two nearly perfect giant slalom runs together for a 4th place finish and a trip to the State Finals. Senior Pam Lange followed with a 26th in slalom and 29th in giant slalom and senior Jenni Branch was 29th in slalom and 45th in giant slalom. Freshman Anne Petrosky, skiing in her first varsity meet after a training injury knocked Dena Thayer out of the lineup 3 days prior to the meet, maintained her concentration and ignoring the pressure, surprised everyone with a 40th place finish in slalom and a 67th place in giant slalom finish. Lori Gust after finishing 2nd on the team in slalom with a 24th place finish, fell in her second giant slalom run to slip to 91st place in that event.

The boys team finished in 7th place in the 17 team field behind 1st place Petoskey, 2nd place Traverse City Central, 3rd place Gaylord, 4th place Harbor Springs, 5th place Charlevoix and 6th place Boyne City.

Jayson Welsler skied his best high school meet to date by outracing most of a strong boys group to take 2nd in slalom and 15th in giant slalom. Following Welsler was Flaskie Robins who was 26th in slalom (2nd fastest team time) and 84th in giant slalom after a second run fall in that event. Tim Hickey who was 67th in slalom and 53rd in giant slalom, Mike Burkley who was 78th in slalom and 47th in giant slalom which was 2nd fastest on the team in that event, John Jurkovich who was 55th in slalom and 75th in giant slalom and Mike McNamara who was disqualified in slalom but finished 50th in giant slalom.

Head coach Mike Wieland, the Regional Meet Manager, received special recognition at the awards presentation ceremony for his hard work in organizing and staging the 6th such Regional that Grayling has hosted in the past eight years. Wieland was quick to point out that the success of the regional meets has been due in great measure to the work of racer parents from Grayling and other schools who volunteer to gate keep, run the timing equipment, compute results, and handle all of the many jobs necessary to conduct an event in which over 200 racers compete.

Grayling High School had eight wrestlers win medals at district competition Saturday at Kalkaska. All eight wrestlers qualify for regional action, and the GHS team total of sending eight wrestlers to regionals tied a school mark.

Bucky Monforton, 126 pounds, and Tim Colling, 138, both won three matches to take first place. Monforton is 25-8 and Colling is 35-12. Both are juniors.

Junior Ward Jones, 155, took second place. His record is 37-7 and he has 24 pins for the year — one off the season record of 25.

Junior Tim Cook, 119, and Senior Fred Fisher, took third. Cook is 23-10-1 and Fisher is 29-13.

Freshman Terry Sorenson, 105, sophomore John Gay, 145, and sophomore Brian Kernstock, 185, took fourth. Kernstock is 24-10 and beat an opponent with a 30-6 record just to make it to the finals.

Viking coach Don Ferguson said his team had to wrestle hard in every match. He said sophomores Gay and Kernstock and freshman Sorenson wrestled well to qualify for the regionals. The Vikings placed 4th out of 14 teams. Rogers City took first and qualified 9 wrestlers. Kalkaska took second and qualified 6 wrestlers. Charlevoix took third and qualified 8 wrestlers.

Regional competition is Saturday at Ithaca. There are only 32 wrestlers left in the state at each weight class. Regionals narrow the field to 16 for the finals.

Vikings Lose Upset Chance, Fall to Charlevoix Here

Grayling missed a chance for a big upset on Parents' Night in the GHS gym last Friday losing to Charlevoix 76-66.

The Vikings won the first half 39-30 then played tentatively in the second half. Charlevoix overcame an 11-point deficit to drop Grayling to 6-6 in the league and 9-8 overall.

A biggest blow to Grayling may have been an ankle injury to Jason McEvers. It's unsure if he will be back to play in district tournament

Grayling played Houghton Lake Tuesday and faces Gaylord Friday and Cheboygan next Friday before district play.

Against Charlevoix, second half turnovers hurt the Vikings, coach Tom Mills said.

"We didn't put up enough shots," said Mills. "We put up 59 shots and we need to shoot about 70 times a game."

Mills said Grayling also gave up 29 offensive rebounds.

"They had a lot of second shots that hurt us."

John Kinnee led the Vikings with 16 points. Todd Klingner had 12, Jason McEvers 11, Tom Bacon 10, Todd Hull 9, David Somerville 6, and Wayne Casler 2. McEvers and Hull each had 13 rebounds and Kinnee had 12.

The J.V. team also lost to Charlevoix.

District Hopes are High For Grayling Volleyballers

Grayling lost a title showdown with Rogers City last week but things are already looking brighter with district action coming up March 7.

One of the reasons district action looks promising for Grayling is that powerhouse Rogers City and two other strong teams, Kalkaska and Elk Rapids, are not in the same district as Grayling this year.

The Vikings are in the same pool as Tawas, Houghton Lake, Roscommon, and Whittemore-Prescott. Grayling, with a 22-10 record, will be one of the favorites in the district tournament.

In last week's action, Grayling warmed up for Rogers City with a tight 19-17, 14-16, 15-9 win over Gladwin. The first and second game took an hour and a half to play.

Sue Casler had 21 serves to lead the team and Jamie Kaiser had 17. Michelle Moore had 20 blocks and 14 spikes. Jenny Money had 10 spikes and 13 tips. Carrie Trudgeon had 28 sets and Chris Schwartz had 13 spikes and 10 tips. Heather Derenzy filled in well along with Dana Pratt and Stacey Rosin.

Against Rogers City, the Vikings never got into the match. Rogers won 15-1, 15-5, 15-8 and took the league title.

"We had to play our best to beat Rogers," said Viking coach Becky Brown, "and it turned out to be the one night nothing worked."

About the only bright spots for Grayling were a few hard spikes by Schwartz, 20 blocks by Moore, and 7 blocks by Money.

Against Gladwin, Grayling was 94 percent accurate on all shots. Against Rogers City, Grayling's hitting percentage fell to 87 percent.

In a Rogers City tournament Saturday, Grayling fared better against Rogers City even though the Vikings were without senior setter Jamie Kaiser.

Grayling lost 11-15 and 8-15 in much closer games. Grayling defeated Gaylord 15-4, 15-8 and Newberry 15-3, 16-14.

Casler had 30 serves and 36 spikes. Moore had 41 spikes and 46 blocks. Schwartz had 29 spikes. Trudgeon had 66 sets, and Money had 29 sets filling in as setter. Pratt had 19 serves, 19 blocks, and 9 spikes. Heather Derenzy had 14 serves, 25 bumps, and 2 blocks. Cheryl Klingner had 5 serves and 15 bumps. Missey Welch had 3 serves and 10 bumps.

Solomonson Wins 3rd GLIAC Wrestling Title

John Solomonson, a Ferris College senior from Grayling, recently won the third Great Lakes Conference wrestling championship of his collegiate career and is on course for a possible bid to the NCAA Division II National Championships.

Solomonson helped FSC capture a share of its first conference wrestling title in three years with a 5-2 victory over Wayne Purtell (N.

Mich. Univ.) and a 15-6 win over Matt Raedle (Grand Valley) at the GLIAC Tournament, Feb. 13 at Lake Superior State College. For the year, the 177-pound Bulldog has a 19-4 record, while the Ferris team is ranked 12th in the nation among NCAA Division II schools with an 8-2-1 dual meet record.

Solomonson, who earned All-American wrestling honors as a two-time conference champion at Oakland University, transferred to Ferris this season after Oakland discontinued its wrestling program. Solomonson is looking to qualify for the NCAA Division II National Championships (Mar. 6-7 at Southern Illinois Univ.-Edwardsville) and earn another chance to win further All-American accolades.

He was a state champion his senior year at Grayling.

Model tells when trees will bloom

Citrus growers and beekeepers need to know exactly when citrus flowers will bloom to protect pollinating honeybees from pesticide poisoning, but until now no scientific method to predict bloom events existed. Researchers at the University of California, Riverside in collaboration with Cooperative Extension personnel have developed the first successful model to predict when citrus trees will blossom.

The model can predict bloom dates as much as two months in advance, does not require visual data collection, and could save the citrus industry lost revenue.

U.S. Environmental Protection Agency
Public Notice
Underground Injection Control Program

PURPOSE OF PUBLIC NOTICE

The purpose of this notice is to solicit written comments on the proposal by the Region V office of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA) to issue an area permit to inject fluids underground via four Class II enhanced oil recovery wells.

BACKGROUND

Part C of the Safe Drinking Water Act (SDWA) specifically mandates regulation of the underground injection of fluids through wells to assure that the quality of underground sources of drinking water is protected. Section 1421 of the SDWA requires U.S. EPA to administer Underground Injection Control (UIC) programs in states which do not have approved UIC programs. Michigan has not acquired primacy over the UIC program, therefore U.S. EPA is administering the permit program pursuant to regulations at 40 CFR Part 147.

The wells which U.S. EPA intends to permit, are to be owned and operated by Dart Oil and Gas Corporation of Mason, Michigan. The Dart Oil and Gas Corporation has applied to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for permission to establish enhanced oil recovery operations pursuant to R299.1701 of the Michigan oil and gas regulations and to U.S. EPA for an area permit pursuant to U.S. EPA regulations at 40 CFR Part 144. This injection operation will utilize salt water.

The wells are to be located within the following permit area:

Crawford County: In a portion of Sections 25 and 30, T25N, R1W. (EPA Permit No. M1-039-2R-A002)

An exact legal description of the area to be covered under this area permit is contained in Attachment A of the draft permit.

PUBLIC COMMENTS

If significant written comments are received within 30 days of the date of this notice, a public hearing may be scheduled. If a public hearing is scheduled, a notice of the hearing will be published at least 30 days in advance. Written comments will be accepted at the address listed below. The administrative record for this permit action is available for review between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. at the address listed below. It is recommended that you telephone Tinka Hyde at (312) 886-4306, before visiting the Region V office, for information on this notice.

Fick & Sons Featured In Magazine

By Don Geiss

Amsoil Incorporated, a synthetic lubricant company, has featured C.F. Fick & Sons Company of Grayling in its international magazine.

The February edition of the publication quotes Chuck Fick about how they use Amsoil synthetic lubricants in all of their vehicles and have received good reports from a logger about the value of the product in heavy logging equipment.

In another portion of the story Scott Fick is quoted about one of the Amsoil lubricants.

The two page spread in an expensive glossy magazine includes color photographs of Chuck posing next to a petroleum delivery truck and Scott alongside the Fick snowmobile.

Fick has a beaming expression on his face when he shows off the magazine and rightfully so since most writers would give up a week's wages to be published in an internationally circulated glossy magazine.

... about your Social Security

If you are retiring soon and planning on filing for Social Security benefits, call the Social Security office first before making a visit. Most claims can be completed by telephone. This also includes claims for survivor and disability benefits.

Generally, if you call to file a claim, arrangements will be made to call you back at a mutually convenient time. All the necessary forms will be completed during the call and mailed to you for review and signature. For those who prefer to file their claims in person, call ahead and schedule an appointment. This will help you avoid a possible long wait for an interviewer.

Other business with Social Security such as a change of address, requesting a benefit estimate, Medicare problems and general information can also be handled by telephone. Be sure and have your claim number when you call. The number of the Traverse City office is 616-946-8360 and the office is open from 9:00 to 4:30 Monday through Friday.

A representative from Social Security is at the Courthouse in Grayling the first and third Tuesday of each month from 10:30 until 2:00. Visits in March will be March 3 and March 17.

Short Campaigns

British election campaigns are limited by law to about three weeks, says National Geographic.

By Don Geiss

The heavy snow was blasting its way across I-75 and the weary driver was gripping the steering wheel tightly when suddenly the Grayling Holiday Inn sign came into view as a welcoming gesture to the motorist.

That scenario is not just an idle promotional comment but a reality which the writer has witnessed on many occasions as he listened to comments from visitors chatting in the lobby of the inn.

Although Grayling had been hosting vacationers for more than a century, the opening of the inn in June of 1972 not only served to be a factor in the increase of tourist business but offered the first large facility for conventions and meetings.

It all came about from the dreams of Grayling Inns Incorporated President Ron Fraser who came to Grayling from Bay City and purchased 10 acres on the South I-75 Business Loop. With some creative financing, the inn became a reality when the 102-unit facility opened for business.

At that time major features offered to clients included three large meeting rooms capable of accommodating 150 persons, a computerized reservation system and a heated swimming pool. It offered a spacious restaurant and a cocktail lounge as well as rooms fully carpeted containing double beds, color television and piped in music.

The business soon became a welcome site for not only the weary travelers but for clubs and organizations who appreciated the opportunity to meet in the quiet of the north country. It was soon apparent that Grayling is a central point for gatherings of state department employees as well as commercial companies with staff spread around the state.

It proved so popular that in September of 1979 a $2.5 million expansion converted the inn into what is now advertised as the Convention Center of the North. Many groups and individuals using the facilities of the center have testified over the years about the correctness of the name. The welcome sign in front of the inn, recently replaced with a new one at a cost of $25,000, not only welcomes the weary traveler but is accepted as an invitation to a meeting and convention center for hundreds of sessions annually.

But it is unfair to gloss over the updated version of the inn without elaborating on some of the additions which have helped to create the popularity. Adding 50 rooms was, while important, perhaps a small contribution when compared to the Holiday Inn which covers 23,000 square feet that enclosed the original swimming pool but added a kiddie pool, snack bar, shuffleboard, table tennis, pool tables, soundproof game room, a gift shop, sauna, whirlpool and giant T.V.

The Old Mill Saloon took the place of the original cocktail lounge and offers authenticity through a backbar imported from Germany dated back to 1877 where it served in a private Baker Build near Hamburg.

The stained glass windows hanging between the Holiday Inn and restaurant which are 10 feet tall were brought to the inn from a church near Clarence, New York and are about 125 years old. The exact replica of an old mill once plentiful along the AuSable and Manistee Rivers provides additional north country atmosphere.

Perhaps the greatest contribution of all in the remodeled facility was the expanded meeting room capability. It increased capacity from the original 150 persons to as many as 800 for a theater, 500 for a banquet, or 400 for a business session. The large one room could be easily converted to four smaller classrooms housing from 65 to 150 conferees or combinations of the sizes by rolling back walls can accommodate other sized audiences.

One need only to visit the inn during the week to be impressed by the variety of meetings groups to realize its popularity for conventions and conferences. A weekend visit during the height of the winter or summer tourist season testifies to the tremendous impression the facility has made on the tourist public.

The Holiday Inn continues to change and update with the times, however, and although the improvements are not too evident, they are taking place. A recent roof replacement cost about $65,000, 100 of the rooms have been refurbished, the parking lot has been resurfaced, a new telephone service has been installed and a Satellite Dish has been erected.

While the dish permits in-house movies, its even more important value is that teleconferencing can be offered at conferences. Many organizations now insist on that capability for any center it considers for a meeting.

Current plans call for refurbishing additional rooms, and maintenance for the swimming pool. Recently Chef Douglas Carmichael, who has a wide range of experience, took over the reins at the Woodside Restaurant and Terrace. He has inaugurated a new dinner and luncheon menu. Within a week he will have also included a change in breakfast offerings.

Although for a short period the lounge did not offer live entertainment, it has once again initiated the real thing on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights.

To say that the Grayling Holiday Inn contributes to the local economy is putting it mildly as its local employee roster alone will testify. The list varies from 85 to 100 with an annual payroll of about $270,000. Name tags on individuals wandering through local stores testify to the widespread spinoffs of business to other commercial establishments.

Fraser attributes much of the success of the inn to the long tenured staff. He lauds Innkeeper Hertha Laupmanis for her dedication since the second year of operation.

Yes, the sign in front of the inn welcomes travelers but, according to many local people who have a finger on the pulse of the economy, this facility does more than its share in making Crawford County a great place to work and play.

WELCOME SIGHT — The Holiday Inn sign beckons travelers to Grayling.

Hickey Joins Co-Op Program With GMAC

Mike Hickey, an Oakland University Marketing major from Grayling, is spending the winter semester as a co-op student with GMAC.

The students alternate work and study semesters and gain actual job experience related to their major field. Studies have shown that many employers prefer to hire employees who have had co-op work experience during their student careers.

KCC Schedules Open House

All of the college's buildings will be open, including many of the instructional labs and offices. Drawings will be held for door prizes, and local merchants and vendors will be providing a free hot-dog lunch.

The New Age Movement Part 12 Their Enemy

Benjamin Creme, the "John the Baptist" for the New Age messiah called "Maitreya," has clearly stated what New Agers think of Jesus and Christianity:

"People have been led to leave the churches in large numbers because the churches have presented a picture of the Christ impossible for the majority of thinking people today to accept — as the One and Only Son of God, sacrificed by His Loving Father to save Humanity from the results of its sins; as a blood sacrifice straight out of the old and outworn Jewish dispensation; as the unique revealer of God's nature...and as waiting in some mythical and unattractive Heaven until the end of the world, when He will return in a cloud of glory to the sound of Angels' trumpets, and, descending from those clouds, inherit His Kingdom. The majority of thinking people today have rejected this view...The view put forward by esotericism is surely more rational and acceptable and more in line with man's knowledge of history and science and religions other than Christianity."

Alice A. Bailey, a leading prophetess of the New Age Movement in her book, "The Externalisation of the Hierarchy" suggest the proper use of atomic weapons:

"It belongs to the United Nations for use when aggressive action on the part of any nation rears its ugly head. It does not essentially matter whether it is generated by the political groups of any powerful religious organization, such as the Church of Rome, who are as yet unable to leave politics alone and attend to the business for which all religions are responsible — leading human beings closer to the God of love."

While the New Age movement talks much about love and peace, it is clear that they hate any religious or political system which threatens their goal of a one world religion and government. When they gain enough international control, they intend to use all the physical force necessary, including atomic weapons, to force totalitarianism on all religions and governments. They will justify their action by claiming to stamp out all bigotry and prejudice. They will do this in the name of humanity, with the desire to avoid nuclear holocaust. This may well be the international system which will usher in the age of antichrist, and the worst human persecution of all history; another Nazi holocaust.

Don't Be Wrong...

During World War II, Kate Smith made famous the statement: "If you don't write, you're wrong."

She encouraged folks on the homefront to write military people to help keep up their spirits during one of the worst wars in history.

And her admonition still rings true. Writing to people is a concrete way to touch them. There's something about a good letter that continues to bless with the passing of years. A person can read a letter over and over; can keep it tucked away in a special place and bring it out for re-reading during times of low ebb.

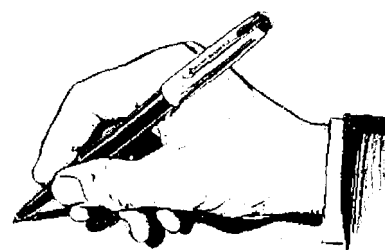

On impulse one day, I wrote a high school English teacher whose careful and demanding style extracted the best from me. Had it not been for her diligence, freshman English at college would have rolled me out! And I told her this.

Her response came by return mail. "A bright spot in my low day," is the way she described my letter.

The Apostle Paul was a great letter writer. And in each letter he expressed gratitude for those to whom he wrote. "I thank my God upon every remembrance of you..." (Phil. 1:3)

"If you don't write, you're wrong."

Saving for Your Child's Future

It used to be that parents could save tax dollars and build a fund for their children at the same time by shifting income and assets into a separate account for them. The income generated from these accounts would be taxed at the child's lower tax rate. But now, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs, much of that will change under the tax reform act of 1986.

Beginning January 1, 1987, unearned income over $1,000 in an account for a child under the age of 14 will be taxed at the parents' rate. For children 14 and older, the old rules still apply. This doesn't mean that you can no longer save for your children by shifting your income into accounts in their name. It just means that it will be more expensive to do so.

What are your options? Savings bonds are one of the oldest yet most versatile methods of saving for the future. Recently, the maturity on Series EE savings bonds has been extended to 12 years and can be totally tax-deferred. This makes savings bonds a perfect investment for children two years old and up since their maturity will fall at the age of 14 or older when the child is past the cut-off point for the new tax law on unearned income.

You can purchase savings bonds for as little as $25 for a $50 bond and for as much as $5,000 for a $10,000 bond.

Recently, the Treasury Department reduced the minimum guaranteed interest rate on new savings bonds to 6% from 7.5% annually, provided you hold the bond for at least five years. But, even with this reduction, savings bonds remain one of the best tax-deferred investments because of their minimum guaranteed yield at maturity.

Another type of bond to consider investing in for your children is the "zero coupon" bond. In general, these bonds pay no interest at all. But, what makes them a good investment is their high rate of return when they mature. This rate-referred to as "yield"—is determined by the current interest rate at the time of purchase and is locked in until the bond is redeemed. The bond accrues interest while it is maturing, but it is not paid out to the investor; instead, the interest is reinvested in the principal of the original bond. However, the IRS treats the interest as if it is paid to the investor which makes it subject to annual taxation. Therefore, your child is paying taxes on interest he or she is not actually collecting.

As an alternative, there are zero coupon bonds that are issued by local and state governments. The interest is exempt from federal taxes—and state and local taxes if you buy bonds issued by the state in which you live.

A single zero coupon bond is issued for $5,000 or more.

But, if you don't want to invest such a large sum at one time, you can invest in part of one through a mutual fund where others invest in the same bond.

There are also certain forms of insurance plans that will allow you to invest in a policy, such as universal life insurance, and save money, tax-deferred, for the future. By purchasing a policy for your child, you can establish a savings plan in his or her name. A policy such as this combines insurance with a high rate of return on earnings within the account. The insurance company may guarantee a return on the cash value portion based on the performance of the investment in which your money has been placed. While your premium is due at least annually, in some plans it is possible to skip a premium without losing the policy.

Another similar option for savings is an annuity. Compared to an insurance policy which saves money for your survivors when you pass away, an annuity saves money for a specific date in the future when you can collect the funds on a monthly basis or in a lump sum.

As an investment, it offers several benefits. The yield follows the current market rate which makes it competitive to other investments and the income is deferred until you begin the pay-out.

GHS Graduate Supervising Movie, Television Scripts

Gail Hunter

Gail Hunter, a script supervisor for television commercials, industrial documentaries, and full-length movies, will have one of her latest projects — the movie "Pals" starring Don Ameche and George C. Scott — appearing on CBS television Saturday, Feb. 28, at 9 p.m.

Hunter, the daughter of Dena and Les Hunter, of Grayling, has worked as script supervisor for several movies including "Solitary Man," "One Terrific Guy,"

"Indian Summer," "The Resting Place," and the "Bedroom Window." The movie "Bedroom Window," a murder-mystery, was released in January, 1987, and is now showing in theaters across the nation. George Stancil, manager of the Grayling Rialto Theater, said "Bedroom Window" will be shown here within a month or two.

"Pals" is a comedy of two retired army buddies who stumble upon $3 million in drug-related money. At the end of the movie, Gail Hunter's name and title of script supervisor will appear in the credits.

Hunter is a 1968 graduate of Grayling High School. She was graduated from Michigan State University in 1972 and she earned a Master's degree from Wayne State University.

She currently lives in Atlanta, Georgia, and is actively involved in the television-movie industry, which has become more diversified in filming throughout the U.S. instead of just Hollywood.

Resource Review

Usually, by this time of year, wildlife is in a life or death struggle. Cold and scarcity of food put severe stress on such species as deer and wild turkeys which, by early March, generally causes a certain amount of mortality.

This winter, however, is one of the mildest in memory. Throughout northern lower Michigan starvation of wildlife should be practically unknown.

This has many ramifications, some good, some bad. On the positive side, we can look forward to good game populations in 1987. The spring turkey hunt and the fall deer season ought to result in many satisfied hunters. Those who don't hunt but enjoy watching wildlife should also have a banner year.

On the negative side, problems associated with too many animals can be anticipated also. An increase in car/deer accidents and more crop damage complaints are likely.

Another problem I anticipate is an increase in bear damage complaints. In the spring, when bears come out of hibernation, there is little readily available natural food and they normally utilize the carcasses of winter killed deer. When these carcasses are not available, bears look for the next easiest meal they can find. Often this is in the garbage can of some unsuspecting household.

The best way to protect yourself from this problem is to make sure all garbage is properly disposed of in a timely manner. Don't let it accumulate. You may be treated to the sight of a bear eating from your bird feeder but if everything else is tidy, it should be no problem.

Doodles From The Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover,
Park Interpreter

This last weekend I went to check my beehive to make certain that all was well. The snow had blocked one entrance that I opened because on warm days at this time of the year the bees will leave the hive. Bees will not defecate in the hive if it can be avoided, so the entrance must be kept clear.

While clearing the entrance, a large gray bird flushed from a nearby tree. The quick glimpse I got led me to think it was an owl, and I verified it by getting a better look. The Barred Owl, according to the ornithologist, is one of two eastern owls with brown eyes. The term Barred is very appropriate since the chest has a definite horizontal barred appearance and the belly has vertical streaks.

Seeing the owl only confirmed which species of owl was residing in the area. We have found the regurgitated pellets of undigested matter under various trees. Those pellets of compacted fur and bones, which are typical of an owl, revealed a diet of mice. The absence of mouse tracks around the bird feeder and garage now have another reason. The owl is another agent of predation.
